

FEATURED PROJECT

Harvest@Bellagio, Las Vegas, NV

In the Spirit of #DiningandDesign, ASI is showcasing restaurant projects that incorporate Interwoven Eco-Panels for your ideas and inspiration. This month's featured project is Harvest, a farm-to-table restaurant at the Bellagio Hotel in Las Vegas designed by award-winning architecture firm Gensler. As the signature material, Interwoven Eco-Panels was installed throughout, reinforcing the fresh and natural ingredients of Chef Roy Ellmar's market-inspired menu.

Interwoven Eco-Panels provide a linear and dimensional canvas of layers and textures for feature and focal walls. The panels are offered in a range of species in rich, natural colorations with a seamless interlocking installation. This modern product is also sustainable and comes in a UV cured 10% gloss or 100% Natural Danish Oil finish.

Did you know Interwoven Eco-Panels are easy to install? Watch the installation video here.

What's Next®? Coming off an exciting teaser at Hospitality Design Expo Show, this summer ASI will be launching the next generation of Interwoven, Interlock Eco-Panels with artistic color washes and contemporary designs.
