Kicking off the new year, as everyone heads back to the office, this month's featured project is the refreshed San Diego workplace of Keller Williams Realty, one of the leading real estate franchise companies in the world.

As Christina Toole, Lead Designer and Partner at the Seed Branding Agency explains "We were tasked to remodel the Keller Williams real estate office in Carmel Valley Del Mar. The client fell in love with the Cast Stone Dimensional Panels. The product was the perfect matte, bone-colored hue to contrast their glossy red logo and black iron lettering.

The contractor raved at how quickly the product arrived and how easy it was to work with. Now, the Keller Williams has a welcoming, and (their words) "eye-popping" lobby that showcases and complements their brand."

Happy New Year from our office to yours!
